

Media Contact:

Kyle Flanagan

713-869-0707

kflanagan@wardcc.com

Kyle Flanagan joins Ward Creative Communications

HOUSTON – May 9, 2007 – Ward Creative Communications, a full-service public relations agency based in Houston, Texas, today announced the addition of Kyle Flanagan as assistant account executive to its staff.

“Kyle’s enthusiasm for public relations and commitment to producing results for our clients make him an ideal fit for our award-winning team,” said Deborah Buks, president of Ward Creative Communications.

In his current position, Flanagan will support the agency’s consumer and energy accounts with research, coordination, writing and media relations.

Before joining Ward Creative Communications, Flanagan worked with Hospice of Lubbock, planning fundraising events, designing marketing campaigns, coordinating focus groups and planning advertising campaigns. Kyle Flanagan holds a Bachelor of Arts in advertising with a minor in communication studies from Texas Tech University.

About Ward Creative Communications

Founded in 1990, Ward Creative Communications is a full service public relations agency serving both consumer and business-to-business clients. Based in Houston, Texas the firm has experienced steady growth and gained a reputation for producing excellent results with a strong commitment to client service.

###