Ward Creative Communications Earns Four PRSA Houston Excalibur Awards

HOUSTON, TX – June 24, 2011 – Ward Creative Communications, a full service public relations agency serving consumer and business-to-business clients, won four Silver Excalibur awards during the Public Relations Society of America’s (PRSA) Houston 2011 Excalibur Awards presentation June 23, 2011 at the Intercontinental Hotel.

The agency and its clients were recognized with Silver Excalibur awards in the following categories:

- Website: HTS Engineering
- Internal Communications Campaign: HTS Engineering Employee Education
- News Release : CDC Houston, Inc. Announces Springwoods Village Development
- Feature Story: Enventure Rigzone Series: How Do Expandables Work?

“We’re especially grateful to our clients who share with us in these wins as they have allowed us to be trusted members of their teams,” said agency principal Deborah Ward Buks.

This year’s annual competition honored outstanding communications professionals and teams for their accomplishments in the development and execution of “A-List” public relations programs and strategies. PRSA Houston presents Gold, Silver and Bronze Excalibur awards in dozens of categories ranging from media relations and marketing tools to crisis communications to internal communications.
